oneclick™ amongst the finalists in the Computing Cloud Excellence Awards oneclick is pleased to announce that it is amongst the finalists for the 'Most Innovative Cloud Product or Service' category in the Computing Cloud Excellence Awards! This is an exciting achievement and highlights oneclick's success in the UK.

oneclick™ is a universally applicable, complete solution for the secure deployment and distribution of applications and data. Using oneclick, businesses can easily connect to any existing server location or quickly create new virtual machines in the data centres of well-known Infrastructure as a Service (IaaS) providers and securely deliver applications from any source into a central workspace in the browser.

oneclick has had an extremely successful year, providing its rapidly growing customer base with a platform that allows businesses to optimise their efficiency and offering a range of features which help to optimise processes. oneclick has received support from important start-up acceleration programs, such as from German Telekom.

Next to the integration into the portfolio of international and well-known distributors such as Insight and ALSO, oneclick has also recently introduced a new two-tier partner model which ensures that it is able to support its growing number of systems integrator partners effectively with the marketing of its Workspace Provisioning and Streaming Platform. oneclick has also recently launched an online community in partnership with Channeliser.

The Cloud Excellence Awards are hosted by Computing, the leading information resource for UK technology decision makers. The awards recognise the very best of the UK's cloud industry, from the most innovative and compelling products and vendors, through to the top use cases from end-user firms.
